

MORE THAN A BUSINESS

Build a brighter future for your family, business, and country. With Conklin's line of hard-working products made in America, we are keeping the American Dream alive. As part of a free-market system, Conklin is doing its part to keep the free enterprise system alive for future generations.

Conklin buys American, manufactures in America, and is the catalyst for tens of thousands of American businesses. If you want to be part of teaching the next generation the lessons and rewards of independence, self-reliance, and self-determination, let our American Dream be part of your own.

JOIN OUR MISSION

The mission of the Conklin Company is to build a company committed to growth and helping people see who they are and the difference they can make. Personal development and growth can only be realized through our commitment to quality products and excellence in service. Together, as a team of individuals, we pledge to have a positive impact on the future of America while building a business to the Glory of God.

From humble beginnings to a nationwide company of Independent Distributors, one thing remains the same: Conklin's commitment to manufacturing hard-working products for hard-working people.

Conklin is celebrating more than 50 years as a manufacturing and distribution company.

At the core of the Conklin opportunity lies its quality products—more than 130 across six major product divisions: Agronomics, Animal, Health & Home, Lawn & Garden, Roofing Systems, and Vehicle products.

Conklin's products are marketed through a vast nationwide network of Independent Distributors, who offer unlimited opportunities to a variety of customers through a diverse product line.
